

Elf Frank Myrrh: Hello once again from the North Pole News Desk, I'm Elf Frank Myrrh with North Pole Radio News. Halloween is soon to be upon us and there's a growing buzz about who will and who will not be attending the event this year. As you may be aware the North Pole Halloween Party is one of the biggest and most anticipated events at the North Pole each year and it features an epic annual food fight. Joining us now is one of the food fight's most prolific twinkie tossers, Elf Crash Murphy. Crash, are you going to the Halloween Party this year?

Elf Crash Murphy: I don't know, Frank. Like a lot of elves I've got a message in to Santa to know what to do about it. I want to do the right thing and I feel kind of funny going to a party when so many elves are busy working.

Elf Frank: I understand, Crash. Fortunately, I was going to be working just covering the news for the Halloween Party and I'll stay in that role.

Elf Crash: Well, that's just it. I want to do what's right for all the elves. Support everybody, you know what I mean. I feel like reverse trick or treating this year given all that's going on.

Elf Frank: Reverse trick or treating? What's that?

Elf Crash: That's where you go around and pass out candy rather than waiting for people to come to your door, Frank. I think of all of those elves working and I want to pass out treats to them, and then maybe mash a pie in their face or something, just so they feel included, you know what I mean?

Elf Frank: I know what you mean, Crash, the spirit of the Halloween party is in the candy and the food fight for sure. Let's us know how it pans out, Crash. For North Pole Radio News I'm Elf Frank Myrrh reporting for SantaUpdate.com on the Kringle Radio Network.
