

Elf Frank Myrrh: Hello once again from the North Pole, I'm Elf Frank Myrrh of North Pole Radio News. With one month now from Christmas we have unusual breaking news here on the day before the day before Thanksgiving. Santa has asked that Rudolph, Dancer, Donner and Blitzen be sent to meet him somewhere for a special mission. Elf Crash Murphy is at Flight Command to learn what could be going on.

Elf Crash: Frank, to be candid this whole thing is a surprise to everybody here at Flight Command. Nobody knows for sure exactly where Santa is and nobody can tell me anything about this mission and the four reindeer selected to take part in it.

Elf Frank: Doesn't someone have to pilot a sleigh with these reindeer to meet up with Santa.

Elf Crash: Yes, and the sleigh pilot is Elf Agent Q.

Elf Frank: Who's that?

Elf Crash: He's the elf that cannot be named.

Elf Frank: The elf – wut?

Elf Crash: Look, Frank – Santa has secret missions all the time. Year round. He's sending things here and there, helping people out. You know, doing stuff that Santa does. Sometimes he delivers things by himself and sometimes he has pilots on standby to do whatever it is he wants. One of those pilots is Elf Agent Q.

Elf Frank: But when we refer to an elf with a name like Agent whatever – such as Agent X, the head of North Pole Security – aren't they usually part of North Pole Security. Why would Santa want four reindeer assigned to a mission to come with an elf from North Pole Security?

Elf Crash: I don't know, Frank, and if I did know, I couldn't tell ya anyway. All we can do is wait for Santa to give us a clue before we can solve this mystery.

Elf Frank: Okay, Crash, please stay on this story for us. Joining us now for what trackers need to know, we turn to Elf Shine sitting in for Elf Westover today.

Elf Shine: Hello Trackers, this is Elf Shine. Elf Westover is right now busy at the moment. There are 28 days till Santa's launch. Santa will arrive on Wednesday, this week for Thanksgiving. This is Elf Shine wishing you happy tidings and Merry Christmas. Stay jolly and have a great day. This is Elf Shine signing out.

Elf Frank: Thank you, Elf Shine and welcome to North Pole Radio News. From the studios of Kringle Radio, I'm Elf Frank Myrrh reporting for SantaUpdate.com on the Kringle Radio Network.
