

NORTH POLE RADIO NEWS - TRANSCRIPT

Elf Holly Berry: Greetings! I'm Elf Holly Berry reporting from the Special Assignment Desk for North Pole Radio News. It has been another good week in Santa's workshop as another 14 days have been chipped away from their deficit. The workshop is just 44 days behind now with 26 days remaining until Santa's launch. That's two good weeks of progress where 28 days have been made up. Joining me now from the cafeteria at Santa's workshop where Elf Merry Ann Brite has an update for us. Merry Ann?

Elf Merry Ann: Holly, working the cafeteria today at Santa's workshop is the kitchen staff from Mrs. Claus' kitchen, and Mrs. Claus is here supervising the meals herself. They arrived last night actually and have been roasting turkey and serving yams, potatoes, stuffing and pumpkin pie non-stop for elves donating their services on this Thanksgiving Day.

Elf Holly Berry: And how are spirits there today?

Elf Merry Ann: I'd call them bright and cheerful, Holly. Although it's a busy workday I'm not hearing any complaints, especially since they set up big screens everywhere so working elves can monitor the Thanksgiving Day Elf Parade and hear Kringle Radio.

Elf Holly Berry: Thank you Merry Ann for that hopeful and positive report. For North Pole Radio News, where we work Thanksgiving Day as well, I'm Elf Holly Berry reporting for SantaUpdate.com on the Kringle Radio Network.
