

Elf Holly Berry: Greetings! I'm Elf Holly Berry reporting from the Special Assignment Desk for North Pole Radio News. The workshop management task force announced today that Santa's workshop remains 79 days behind with 47 days until Santa's launch, an improvement of 10 days since we last reported. Joining us now with breaking news from the Reindeer Operations Department is Elf Al Pyne. Al, what are you hearing over there?

Elf Al Pyne: Holly, it appears the special flight missions for all of Santa's reindeer are now over and they are returning home to the North Pole in large numbers to prepare for the Reindeer games next week. In talking with several elves in Distribution and confirming with Elf Wally, it appears the effort to rush needed materials to the North Pole is wrapping up.

Elf Holly: Oh, that is indeed good news. Does that mean the workshop has all the materials they need to make all the toys?

Elf Al: They do, Holly. The question now is if they have the elf power to pull it off and get all those toys made in time.

Elf Holly: Thank you, Elf Al Pyne for that outstanding report. For North Pole Radio News, where we'll be asking about elf power for our next workshop crisis update, I'm Elf Holly Berry reporting for SantaUpdate.com on the Kringle Radio Network.
