NORTH POLE RADIO NEWS – TRANSCRIPT

Elf Frank Myrrh: Hello once again from the very busy North Pole news desk, I'm Elf Frank Myrrh of North Pole Radio News. We have multiple breaking news stories we're following up on at the North Pole today and nearly all of them are urgent. Joining me for a recap from North Pole Flight Command is Elf Crash Murphy. Crash, which of all of these important stories is the most important?

Elf Crash Murphy: I'm not sure, Frank, I'll just start with the two big stories they are talking about in Flight Command today. We have now see 1500 reindeer added to the service ranks of those shuttling gifts, presents, treats and surprises from the North Pole to strategic stages places around the world, making a total of 2000 reindeer in that effort in just the past week alone. That's an extraordinary level of support with about 3 weeks left before Christmas, Frank.

Elf Frank: Do we have any idea if these early shuttles are moving the effort forward, and actually helping Santa's workshop go faster?

Elf Crash: We do, Frank. They are making space, allowing the workshop to work faster to refill that space. Space has been a huge challenge the past couple of months so this is making a difference. Now, Frank, I need to address this issue of more tracker elves. We have a lot to say about this but today I'd like to talk about the senior believer, those older folks who have carried a life long belief in Santa. It is time for those people to get it together and sign up to be a tracker elf at SantaTrackers.net.

Elf Frank: A senior believer? Are you talking old people, Crash?

Elf Crash: Yes, Frank, anyone over the age of 11.

Elf Frank: Oh...you mean SENIOR believers, Got it. Okay you oldsters out there, you can do it. Get over to SantaTrackers.net and sign up to track Santa for Santa this year. The Big Guy can really use your help. From the North Pole news room, where I shudder to think how long I've been a senior believer, I'm Elf Frank Myrrh reporting for SantaUpdate.com on the Kringle Radio Network.
