

Elf Frank Myrrh: Greetings from the North Pole news desk, I'm Elf Frank Myrrh of North Pole Radio News. The North Pole Post Office is in peak operating mode right now as billions of emails, wish lists, texts and voicemails are pouring in for Santa in the run up to Christmas. Joining us from the post office is Elf Crash Murphy with a live report. Crash, have you sent in your wish list for Santa?

Elf Crash: You bet I have, Frank. And even though I know Santa and talk with Santa often because of my elf job I still have to send in a wish list to Santa like every other believer out there, and so do you.

Elf Frank: I do, Crash. And I wonder why that's true. Why can't I just tell Santa when I see him?

Elf Crash: Because Santa has a system. Think about it, Frank. Santa is right now visiting with believers everywhere and anywhere Santa goes there are long, long lines of believers who want to sit on his knee and talk with him. How can Santa possibly remember all that they say they want? Well, he's got elves for that and they work a system where Santa keeps track of that. That is why they sing that song about Santa making a list and checking it twice. It's not about naughty or nice, it's about remembering!

Elf Frank: Crash, this is really good information and I look forward to the North Pole chat today with Elf Hugo to talk about messaging Santa. Thanks for that report. From the North Pole, where we're making a list and checking it twice before we send it to Santa, I'm Elf Frank Myrrh reporting for SantaUpdate.com on the Kringle Radio Network.
