

Elf Frank: Happy Leon Day greetings from the North Pole news desk, I'm Elf Frank Myrrh of North Pole Radio News. Leon Day is the halfway point to Christmas and here with a live report from North Pole Flight Command today is International Director of Santa Trackers, Elf Crash Murphy. Crash, it's a busy day for you today.

Elf Crash: It is Frank. You and I will both be in North Pole Chat today to catch everyone up on things and I'm really looking forward to it. We have a lot of news to talk about in the early going of Operation Merry Christmas this year.

Elf Frank: What are the things fans of Santa should be following already this year?

Elf Crash: Well, there's Santa's new sleigh which has really been in the news a lot, Frank. There's a lot of buzz about it, not all of it positive. It's early and I think it will be an enduring story. But we also have news for Santa Trackers with the re-launch of the Elf Community at SantaTrackers.net now official, the announcement of all the new Regional Tracking Centers just today at North Pole Flight Command, and of course the great news this year so far out of Santa's workshop. Lots of good things are happening, Frank.

Elf Frank: I am looking forward to this chat, Crash. It's been a number of months for our tracker elves especially and it's been great fun seeing them show up at SantaTrackers.net as that has opened up in the past week.

Elf Crash: Yes, tracking Santa for Santa is going to be bigger than ever this year, so today's chat will kick us off in fine fashion I think.

Elf Frank: Okay, Crash. We'll be there with bells on. From the North Pole news desk, where tracking Santa for Santa is always our thing, I'm Elf Frank Myrrh reporting for SantaUpdate.com on the Kringle Radio Network.
