

Operation Merry Christmas Update

Elf Frank Myrrh: Happy Christmas in July greetings from the North Pole news desk, I'm Elf Frank Myrrh of North Pole Radio News. Great news was reported today by the Accounting Office at the North Pole about the status of Operation Merry Christmas. Joining us after his return trip to Central America is Elf Crash Murphy, Crash what was Santa's response to this latest report?

Elf Crash Muphy: Santa and I had plenty of time to talk with all that sleigh time this week and of course he gets those reports ahead of anybody. And he's really pleased with it, Frank. Santa, for all the talk about how the new sleigh has disrupted things, says what we need right now is good news and this is the best possible news we could get.

Elf Frank: The reports of your visits to the new tracking centers in Mexico and Costa Rica are positive too. What's your read about how Santa reacted to those visits?

Elf Crash: Santa had not been to a Regional Tracking center in a long time, Frank, so it was kind of an eye opener for him. He's moving his schedule around so he can visit Sector 3 in Belgium and Sector 2 in Taiwan by the time they open at the end of the month. So next week, Frank.

Elf Frank: Was Santa all business on this trip?

Elf Crash: Not at all, Frank. Santa drove and it's the first time I've been in a sleigh with him where I didn't feel my hair was on fire. We took our time coming and going, we listened to the radio replay of tracking Santa, and we talked a good deal. It was really a great time and I'm glad I had that time with Santa.

Elf Frank: Interesting report and it's nice to hear such good news these days. From the North Pole news desk, where we love reporting great news, I'm Elf Frank Myrrh reporting for SantaUpdate.com on the Kringle Radio Network.
